

What is ILA?

The ILA is a group of Independent Living owners, residents and community partners committed to improving the quality of Independent Livings in Fresno County. ILA increases access to quality Independent Living to empower residents on their journey of recovery.

Modeled after the Better Business Bureau, ILA membership is for Independent Living owners, but the benefits of the Association can be felt throughout the community through:

ILA: Quality Housing

Quality housing is the cornerstone of recovery and opportunity for many people with mental illness. ILA membership is an honor and the standard for quality, only the most trusted businesses gain membership.

Every ILA member adheres to a set of eight quality standards that represent industry best practices. Although Independent Livings are not licensed, all ILA members go through an ILA training program and participate in annual Peer Review Quality Inspections to ensure they meet the Quality Standards of the ILA.

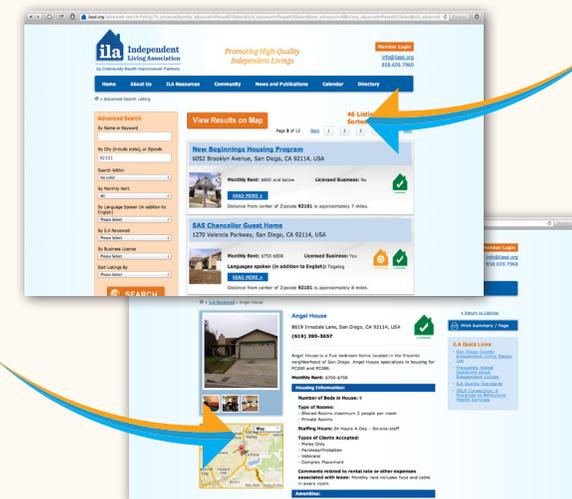

ILA membership demonstrates trust and commitment to quality.

Benefits of ILs

Independent Livings are privately-owned homes or complexes that provide housing for adults with mental illness and other disabling health conditions. The ILA showcases high-quality Independent Livings and helps the community find the right fit for their housing needs. As a safe and affordable housing option, Independent Livings provide several benefits to the community resulting in significant savings in tax dollars.

- Decreased use of public services
- Decreased homelessness
- Increased public safety

“Stable and supportive housing is one of the most effective ways to encourage recovery and reduce inappropriate use of the healthcare system.”
